Note: 1.N/A refers to publications affiliated with “National Taiwan University” for which no further information on the college or research unit is available.

2.Figures in parentheses indicate the number of publications for which the corresponding author or first author is affiliated with the college/unit, and the percentage of such publications among the total publications for that year.

3.Note on data assignment: Where sufficient information is available, such as co-authors, research fields, or other relevant details, to identify the author affiliation of publications originally classified as N/A, those publications will be reassigned to the appropriate college/unit. As a result, the number of N/A publications may decrease compared with previous annual reports, and figures in annual reports may be subject to adjustment. The final figures for each college/unit should be based on the latest annual report.
